

██████ --

Your calendar might say Election Day passed a month ago, but Mary Landrieu is still fighting for a critical seat in the Senate.

In just three days, Mary will be facing off against her GOP opponent in a tight runoff election. He may have the Koch brothers and shadowy right-wing groups on his side, but Mary's got us.

Mary Landrieu has been a critical ally over the years, and she's an ally I'm counting on in the years to come. Standing with her now will show Republicans that we're not backing down in the fight for women, for our families, and for our values all across the country -- no matter what.

That's why Democrats from coast to coast are launching a moneybomb to help power Mary Landrieu's campaign through these final four days -- and I want you to join me.

Women have made a lot of progress in the Senate, but our fight isn't nearly over. We need to re-elect Mary Landrieu to help keep up the fight.

Mary stood with me to pass the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act and reauthorize the Violence Against Women Act to help keep women safe at home and get a fairer shake in the workplace. She helped me pass the Small Business Jobs Act, providing capital to small businesses on Main Streets across the country so that millions of workers and entrepreneurs have a better shot at achieving the American dream. There's so much more we can accomplish together if we send Mary Landrieu back to the Senate.

But if Republicans take her seat, they'll work to undo all of the progress we've made for women and families across the country.

Republicans have pulled out all the stops to defeat Mary and strengthen their majority with this one last seat. Right-wing groups are already on pace to spend more than $7 million against Mary Landrieu in this runoff.

We need to pull out all the stops to help Mary Landrieu fight back. That's why we're aiming to send $100,000 to Louisiana by midnight tonight -- to keep a strong, fighting Democrat in the U.S. Senate. Will you join us?

Grassroots support from people all across the country helped Mary Landrieu advance on Election Day, and helped her win two tough runoff elections in the past.

With your help right now, she'll do it again on Saturday.

Thanks for everything you do,

Maria Cantwell
U.S. Senator
