

Friend --

Traveling around Washington with Governor Inslee, it doesn't take long to realize how much he loves this state and how much he loves to draw. He doesn't have a lot of free time these days, but when he has a few minutes, you can bet he's sketching.

The Governor has been so excited by the powerful response of our grassroots community over the last month and had an idea: He wants to create a drawing for a few of his best supporters.

So, here's the deal: Donate before our important August 31 fundraising deadline for a chance at receiving your very own Jay Inslee original. That's right, a drawing just for you, by Governor Inslee. But hurry, because there are just five days left!

Chip in to help us continue to fight for real progress in Washington State. And as a bonus, we'll mail an original piece of artwork to three grassroots supporters.

He's really looking forward to thanking three donors with a personal sketch, drawn and signed by him!

Think about how great it would be to hang an original piece of art by the Governor on your wall, and then donate today -- before our month-end deadline -- for your chance to receive a drawing.
