Our year-end public fundraising deadline is only 48 hours away, and we're 187 donations short of our goal. Here's why that matters:

I'm proud to represent hardworking Washington families. Every day, I try to be the strong, progressive, Democratic representative residents of the 1st District deserve.

But we already know that our race in 2016 is going to be one of the closest in Washington state, and we have an extreme Tea Partier as an opponent. So Randy Sidney, if we fall short of our goal on Thursday, it'll make our race that much tougher.

That's why I'm coming to you. Will you chip in $5 or $10 today for our Washington campaign? I'd really appreciate it.
